Background:

Staff is currently preparing materials for two fall meetings as a follow-up to the storm events of 2013.

The first meeting will consist of an overview of the City's municipal sewer system. The context of the meeting will be educational in nature. It is anticipated that the material presented will be shared with residents via the City's website.

It is my opinion that a one hour meeting prior to a Public Works COW would suffice. I recommend that this be held on September 9 at 6 p.m.

Staff is developing an instrument for residents to submit written questions about their individual sewer systems, with a two-week turnaround for answers. We will share this instrument with the Council when finalized.

The second meeting will be held later in the fall, in anticipation of the FY15 Budget process. Council will be given an update on current construction projects and feasibility studies. Christopher B. Burke Engineering, the City's consultant, will attend to answer any questions that the Council may have.
